SHOVED BACK
IN VIGAN AREA

Indefinite Number of Dead,
Wounded Left Behind,
Is Report

JAP PLANES OVER
MANILA; FLY HIGH

Amalgamation of Philippine Army With U. S.
Is Announced

MANILA, Dec. 18.—Japanese invaders have been shoved back many miles in the Vigan area of northwestern Luzon, the United States
Far Eastern command announced
today.

An indefinite number of Japanese dead and wounded were left on the field of battle, south of Vigan, in that action on Monday afternoon, it was said. There was no further word on what had developed since then.

Sea-borne Japanese troops secured their Vigan foothold, about 200 miles north of Manila, soon after the outbreak of the war in the Pacific.

First Alarm In Three Days
Manila had its first air raid alarm in three days at 1:55 p. m., today (11:55 p. m., Wednesday, E. S. T.) and before the all clear came 35 minutes later Japanese bombers, preceded by a small number of fighters, flew across the city.

In all, 12 planes were counted.
They were so high they could hardly be seen, apparently having developed a respect for American anti-aircraft fire.

Bombs fell on Nichols and Zab-
lan fields but caused light damage,
a communiqué said, and no casualties were reported.

The communiqué also announced amalgamation of the entire Philippine army with the United States army in the Far East.

The chief of staff of the Philippine army, General Basilio J.
Valdes, will continue to administer
his echelon, the announcement said.

All Under U. S. Banner

The communiqué said that "in order to amalgamate all defense forces and effectuate the maximum cohesion and coordination, the entire Philippine army is inducted into the U. S. A. F. E."

It also was announced that Lieut.-Gen. MacArthur had given President Manuel Quezon a check for $10,000 for public relief and civilian defense.

Salem Youth, In Air Corps
At Manila, Reported Safe

Mrs. C. H. Taylor of Walnut st.
today received word from her son,
Charles R. Taylor who is stationed with the U. S. Army Air Corps at Manila, Philippine Islands, that all is well.

His cablegram read "Everything fine. No danger. Merry Christmas." Taylor, who has been in the service two years, has been stationed with headquarters squadron at Manila two and one-half months.
He was previously assigned to Fort Douglas, Utah.

AXIS FLEEING
ACROSS LIBYA

Russians Gain; Rumanians,
Italians Are Fighting
Nazi Comrades

(By Associated Press)
A great, perhaps decisive turning-point marked Europe's war on two fronts today as Britain announced officially that the Axis front in North Africa has been completely shattered and Russia declared that Adolf Hitler's invasion armies were fleeing in chaos.

A Soviet broadcast reported bitter hatred flaring among the Axis forces, asserting that Russian cavalry in the Donets basin had captured retreating German, Italian and Rumanian troops when they fell to fighting one another.

The broadcast said Rumanian soldiers joined with the Italians against the Germans.

In Full Retreat

Exactly one month to the day after Britain's desert armies struck back into Libya in their second North African offensive, British Middle East headquarters announced:

"Axis forces in eastern Cirenaica (Libya) are now in full retreat... the enemy front has everywhere
been broken... yesterday our troops relentlessly pursued the enemy for a distance of nearly 30 miles."

This, in staccato sentences, the British command foretold the apparent beginning of the end of the African campaign, while on the Russian front, the story of Axis disaster was even greater.

Premier Joseph Stalin was quoted as describing the ill-clad fleeing Germans as "resembling the forces of Napoleon" in the bloody retreat from Moscow in 1812.

Havas (French news agency) dispatches said the German withdrawal in the Ukraine had brought the great industrial city of Kharkov, the "Russian Pittsburgh," into the battle zone once more, and on the central front, Russian cavalrymen were reported to have chased German troops to within 19 miles of Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow.

Everywhere along the 1200-mile front from Leningrad to the southernmost Ukraine, the Germans were declared to be falling back in a retreat unparalleled since Hitler sent his armies smashing through Belgium, Holland and France more than 18 months ago.

"Can't Keep Up With Germans"

On the Moscow front, the British radio said the Germans had fled from Moshalsk, a key center 57 miles west of the capital, and white-helmeted Soviet shock troops were reported to be threatening
the recapture of German-held Volokolamsk, 65 miles northwest of Moscow.

"We can't keep up with the Germans, they are running so fast," Red army soldiers were quoted as complaining.

Soviet dispatches said that the Nazis were offering only rearguard resistances in their flight over the

HART NAMED
AS BANK HEAD
BY GOVERNOR

Will Succeed Rodney Prior Lien, Who Goes To
Cleveland Trust

CHANGE IS SLATED
DURING JANUARY

Appointee Has Been Executive of Farmers Bank
Since 1934

Appointment of William L. Hart, president of the Farmers National bank, as state superintendent of banks was announced by Gov. John W. Bricker at Columbus today.

The Salem man will succeed Rodney Prior Lien, who has resigned, effective Dec. 31. Lien will become vice president and controller of the Cleveland Trust Co. the first of the year.

Hart, who will take over the $7,500-a-year job for a two-year term some time in January, expects to move his family to Columbus.

A native of Girard, Pa., he was educated at Pennsylvania State college and the Rutgers graduate school of banking.

He began his banking career in Albion, Pa., where he remained for seven years, leaving to accept a position with Spencer Kamerer & Co., of Erie, Pa. In 1932 he was named cashier of the Home National bank in Union City, Pa.

Two years later, in October, 1934, Hart came to Salem as cashier of the Farmers bank. He was appointed executive vice president in 1939
and became president Oct. 1, 1941.

Hart has been active in community affairs in Salem. He served as president of the Rotary club and the Salem Business bureau, and was chairman of the Community fund.

No action has been taken toward selecting his successor here.

ADMIT FIVE SUBS
SUNK AT HAWAII

Japanese Apparently Refer
To Special Two-Man
Submersibles

TOKYO, Dec. 18.—(Official Radio Received By AP)—The Japanese naval command admitted today
that five of its "special type" sub-mersibles failed to return from the
Dec. 7 attack on the United States
Hawaiian naval base at Pearl harbor.

Apparently the craft referred to were Japan's 41-foot, two-man submersibles, one of which was captured by United States forces in the attack on Hawaii while another was destroyed. The pocket sub-mersibles, electrically powered, have a range of 200 miles.

The Japanese also admitted the loss of 29 planes in that attack and said that a United States aircraft carrier which on Dec. 8 had been reported sunk "now is believed to have escaped to a certain port."

The Japanese said their "special type" submersibles "penetrated deeply into Pearl harbor and sank at least one battleship of the Arizona
class and in addition inflicted heavy losses on enemy ships."

7 YOUTHS PERISH
IN BUS ACCIDENT

ROBINSON, Ill., Dec. 18.—At least seven youths perished last night in the burning wreckage of a National Youth administration bus that ran off an Illinois highway and overturned near West Union.

Two boys, Henry Walters and one named Johnson of Marshall, were unaccounted for early today, and the bus driver, Ferris Williams, 35, of Casey, was hospitalized for critical burns. Seven others escaped with burns.

The dead were Tom Ollinger, 17;
Henry Ollinger, 16; James Holbeck;
15; Barney Shook, 15; Richard Mc-Clure, 20; Earl Melton and Vic
Turner. Turner was from Casey, the others from Marshall.

Dan McClure, father of Richard, reported 11 youths got out of the bus when it tipped and caught fire, but two of them perished in attempts to rescue the others.

Figures In Shakeup Of Pacific High Command

The United States army and navy announce a sweeping shakeup of the Pacific high command on the land, on the sea and in the air as a result of the Pearl harbor disaster. Rear Admiral Chester V. Nimitz (top left) is given command of the Pacific fleet, relieving Admiral Husband E. Kimmel (lower left). Lieut. Gen. Delos C. Emmons (top center) takes over the duties of Lieut. Gen. Walter C. Short (center bottom) who headed the Army's Hawaiian department. Brig. Gen. C. L. Tinker (right top) will relieve Major Gen. Frederick L. Martin (bottom right) as commander of the air forces.

New Pacific Chief
"Pigboat" Veteran;
Saw Actual Combat

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—If the Japanese have been uneasy about the scope of American submarine operations, there is no comfort for them in the appointment of Admiral Chester V. Nimitz as commander of the U. S. Pacific fleet
today.

Nimitz is an old "pigboat" man.
His first command, back in 1909,
was a submarine "tortoise," and he has seen considerable service with the "pigboats" since, including months of experience under actual combat conditions in the World war.

Nimitz is 56, three years younger than Admiral Husband E. Kimmel whom he succeeds at fleet commander.

Navy circles credit him with rare
ability in picking capable subordinates; likewise with great technical skill.

Nimitz is a wiry Texan. His service record runs like this: Graduated from the U. S. naval academy and commissioned an ensign in 1907; promoted to junior lieutenant and then senior lieutenant in 1910;
lieutenant commander in 1916;
commander in 1921, captain in 1927,
and rear admiral in 1938.

Before becoming chief in 1939
of the bureau of navigation—the navy's personnel department—he was commander of battleship division one of the fleet's battle force.

NEW PACIFIC
CHIEF NAMED

Nimitz Replaces Kimmel;
Other Changes Made
As Probe Begins

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The United States entrusted supreme command of its Pacific fleet today to Admiral Chester V. Nimitz, one of the highest officers in the navy's top councils.

Nimitz, a forceful Texan, was ordered to sea from his post as chief of the bureau of navigation,
where he was rated in service
circles as second only to Admiral Harold B. Stark, chief of naval operations.

Nimitz succeeds Admiral Husband
E. Kimmel, commander-in-chief of the Pacific fleet, who, with two other top-ranking officers of the Hawaiian area, was relieved of command pending the outcome of the investigation which President Roosevelt ordered on the Pearl harbor sneak attack.

The navy and war departments acted simultaneously last night in removing the officers whose responsibility for the lack of alert preparedness will be subject to examination by the President's investigating board.

Kimmel was the only navy man affected. The army relieved Lieutenant General Walter C. Short of

War Needs Money—YOURS!

This war calls for every ounce of energy, every dime and dollar we can muster for our ships
—and planes—and guns.

This was the reminder today
of Junior Chamber of Commerce officers who are seeking to raise $180,000, enough to cover the cost of manufacturing
a bomber for the U. S. Army.

Hit the enemy with a $25 defense bond, the C. of C. appealed as the current sales drive
reached approximately $35,000, following a $27,000 mark yesterday. Help the enemy with a $50 bond. Help to blow him sky-high with a $100 or $1,000 bond.

Donations Of Toys
Asked By Red Cross

Donations of toys, sweaters or money with which to buy gifts are sought by the Salem Red Cross chapter in order that the organization might stage a Christmas party for the boys and girls of the Fairmount Children's home, near All-ance, on Christmas day.

"Help make some unfortunate boy or girl happy," the Red Cross appealed today. The gifts should be brought to the Red Cross headquarters in the Memorial building by Saturday. Toys should be in A-1 condition since time will not permit the repair of old ones.

The chapter already has several sweaters and caps which will be given to the children, but more are needed. Any money turned over will help purchase additional sweaters and caps, it is explained.

A few toys have been reconditioned by boys of the manual training classes at the High school and Junior High.

Enlistments To Be Halted After Rush,
Says War Secretary

Immediate Increase Of 150,000 Men Recommended; Ultimate Strength Of Land Forces To Be Determined As Situation Develops

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Secretary Stimson announced today the war department was planning to expand the army to the greatest strength needed and would depend for the increase entirely on the selective service system.

All voluntary enlistments are to be halted as soon as
"the present rush subsides," Stimson told a press conference.
An immediate increase of more than 150,000 men already has been recommended in a bill which Stimson said was on President Roosevelt's desk.

Stimson also announced:
All reserve officers not yet called to active duty have been ordered to take physical examinations, but he said this step did not mean they necessarily would be called out immediately.

After Jan. 1 all graduates of officer candidate schools will be ordered to duty immediately. Previously those so desiring have been awarded certificates of capacity and permitted to return to their former enlisted ranks.

Commanders of the four air force interceptor commands in the United states have been charged with ordering blackouts, air raid alarms,
all clear signals and silencing radio signals.

Stimson said the purposes were to prevent false alarms and unnecessary interference with production. Both difficulties, he said, had been in evidence in California since the war came. The order became effective Dec. 9.

The war department is now in the process of "completing details of a general and indeterminate increase," in the army, the war secretary said.

See Efficiency, Speed
"We are proceeding on the basis of the utmost speed consistent with efficiency," he went on. "The ultimate strength of the land forces will be determined in the light of the strategic situation as it develops."

"We are trying to set up machinery by which the army can be increased steadily but without fixing limits which might have to be changed."

"We are trying to do it with the least disturbance to industry and the entire economies set up."
"In the light of this purpose the age limits in the new selective service legislation now before congress is important. That is why we ask that the minimum age limit
be set at 19."

Administration leaders were confidently predicting senate approval of the legislation making men of 19 and 20 liable for military service, though the house had refused to lower the induction age from 21.

Siding Is Given
Rank Of Captain

Relatives here have been advised of the recent promotion of Lieut. C.
L. Siding, former Salem man, to the rank of captain in the ordnance department of the United States Army.

Capt. Siding is a graduate of Salem High school and the school of engineering at Cincinnati university where he received his early military training. Following his graduation at Cincinnati, he trained at the Aberdeen proving grounds, Aberdeen, Md., where he received a commission as second lieutenant in the Reserve Officers Corps.

Continuing his studies and attending an officers school at Fort Knox, Ky., he became a first lieutenant in 1937.

In June of this year Capt. Siding was called for active duty at the Erie proving grounds at La-Crosse, O. Two months later he took special training at Aberdeen and returned to the Erie proving grounds to be named proof officer in charge of testing anti-aircraft guns and acting also as ammunition service officer.

After Capt. Siding graduated from college, he was employed in the engineering department of the Mullins plant here. For the past four years he served as sales engineer in the wringer division.

He recently secured quarters at the Erie army post and moved his family from Salem where they resided on E. 10th st.

PROTECTION IN SALEM

City council was told Tuesday night that the city has no funds to pay for extra police and firemen. It expected that kind of a report from its finance committee as it knew there was no surplus in any fund on which to draw for this added expense. It was no surprise to any one who has been watching the city officials struggle through a year of limited finances.

The request of Mayor Phillips that council provide funds for four or five extra police officers and a few extra firemen to guard the city during the war produced no excitement except that displayed by the mayor himself. He should have known the city's finances would not permit such an expansion.

What the mayor should have known, also, is that he became excited before he had given the subject of protection much serious thought. What could four or five more men do to guard Salem's industrial plants against sabotage? How could such a small force effectively patrol the industrial area?

The manufacturers themselves have been working out plans for fire and police protection within their plants. Extra guards have been placed on duty, and the city's police and fire departments and the entire Civilian Defense council of Salem have been organized to offer immediate assistance in case of emergency. It is an easy matter to deputize the guards at the plants with police powers and, with such authority, they could act more quickly and more effectively in any emergency than a small force of four or five extra police officers who probably wouldn't be at the scene of the emergency when it was discovered.

In a way, it probably is a good thing the city has no money to hire a few extra policemen. Under the circumstances it would be an extravagant expenditure of money even if councilmen saw fit to use it if they had it. Volunteer organizations have been set up for such purposes in other cities. There will be need for much voluntary service in every community. Salem will produce its share of volunteers for any patriotic duty once that duty is outlined to them.

WATER STORAGE

Now that city officials and manufacturers have agreed that a large water storage tank should be constructed to meet increased industrial and domestic demands, plans for providing such a tank should be pushed with all possible speed. Other phases of the city water program, to be developed as a result of the survey by a water expert for the last several months, are important, but these can be taken up step by step over a period of two or three or possibly five years. The big job at hand is to provide an adequate supply particularly for industrial plants where production of war orders requires more water. It is too vital an issue to be sidetracked or even delayed unnecessarily.

The whole problem of providing a greater supply of water of better quality than at present cannot be solved within a few months. It will require a large sum of money and considerable time for development of the program. The manufacturers, who have been working closely with city officials on a study of this program, long ago sensed that a tremendous task was ahead of the city. They have urged that the first step to be undertaken deal with storage capacity, for fire protection as well as industrial uses.

This step in itself will be expensive, but the results will justify the cost. The financial end of this, as well as other steps to be taken later, makes one conscious of how important it has been to keep a surplus in the water fund. And it brings a realization, too, of how that fund has been dissipated within very recent years. It is quite apparent now, as this paper pointed out at the time, that a reduction of the water rates by the mayor was ill-advised. The rates may have been high, but much more important to consumers is an adequate supply of water they can drink and use for domestic and industrial purposes.

AMERICAN CREDO FOR WARTIME

When there was peace, Americans believed they were situated more favorably than any other nation. Besides resources, they were blessed with a political and social tradition that rewarded initiative in developing resources. They knew of no single reason why they should tolerate an inferiority complex.

They know of no single reason why they should feel that way now. The most important single thing that has happened in this country the last few days is development of self-confidence. The war of nerves—the only significant contribution the gangster governments have made to warfare—is over. America now is in the thick of the thing it can do as well as any other nation—a contest of resources and resourcefulness.

The record shows that most of the ideas and implements used by the countries that sought war originated in the United States. Having no immediate use for them, this nation permitted others to win the advantage of exploitation. The airplane, the submarine, the destruction of battleships by high explosives, dive-bombing, total mobilization and even the concept of war in motion came from the United States. They were neglected because Americans believed there was more important things to be done than development of military juggernauts.

They still think so, but they recognize the necessity of doing the fighting first so they may do a better job on the other things later. They have been forced by circumstances to develop their military potentialities, greater than those of the combined potentialities of all their opponents. In war as in peace, they believe they are situated more favorably than any other nation.

INDISPENSABLE TRIANGLE

Big Gen. William L. Mitchell, who saw what airplanes would do to war 20 years before most of the world could see it, is the American of the month militarily speaking. It is too bad he couldn't have lived to see his judgment vindicated. It is too bad he was handed badly by the government he tried to serve. It is too bad the governments that profited by his experiments proving what airplanes could do to battleships are now using his conclusions to wring blood, sweat and tears from the United States.

Gen. Mitchell's name is being mentioned frequently to remind those claiming that aerial warfare is surprisingly effectual that their discovery is not new. He saw it all and was court-martialed for demanding attention for his views. What he saw chiefly was that armies and navies weren't going to mean a thing without control of the air above them—and he vigorously denounced those who failed to do something about it in time to avert disaster.

Fortunately, a few did understand and try to do something and what they were able to do represents virtually the entire margin of American security today. Until the United States controls the air over its navy and army, it will lack the indispensable triangle of complete national defense—air, land and water.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, December 19

WHILE affairs of the young and socially or romantically inclined may be very active and move briskly to very happy denouements, yet business and all workaday interests may be under adverse astral conditions. There is a peculiar strange or irregular cast to rather upsetting or devastating situations which may call for astute, watchful and resolute behavior. This menace seems to be involved with elders.

Those whose birthday it is may be confronted by a year of much gaiety, activity and youthful interests, perhaps of a romantic nature or kindred happy pursuits, while in business there may be signs of disintegrating and surprising circumstance arising from a curious, irregular or foreign source. Guard well all unfamiliar contacts and plans, especially in writings, travel, new ventures and transactions with agencies. Elders, friends, as well as strangers are suspect.

A child born on this day will be genial, lively and socially inclined with good intent and purpose, yet may be erratic, unconventional and get into peculiar irregularities.

HERPES SIMPLEX ARE NOT SO SIMPLE

They're Cold Sores And They Are Puzzling

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
I am in receipt of a postcard which asks a plain question, to wit: "Will you please give a cure for cold sores, and why are some people more subject to them than others?"

Now this is a perfectly fair question and I am sure that it

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

reflects the attitude of the public, which is that doctors know all about cold sores.

They ought to. More or less everybody has cold sores. They are very simple affairs—at least to the extent that they never kill anybody. But they are troublesome out of all proportion to the seriousness of their appearance. If there is anything that hurts worse than a cold sore, except having a baby or a kidney stone, I don't know what it is. So doctors should know the cause and how to cure them. That all seems perfectly obvious.

Unfortunately, the fact is that the medical profession knows nothing whatever about cold sores. They don't know the cause of them, they don't know how to prevent them and they don't know how to shorten their course.

Prevention Unknown
I have before me a report of some doctors in San Francisco who found that every time they gave heat treatment or fever treatment to patients, a large group developed cold sores. In a group of 321 patients, 227, or nearly 71 per cent, had cold sores when they took artificial fever therapy. Now if the doctors knew how to prevent it, they certainly would do so under these circumstances, when they had a mathematical expectancy of having cold sores develop in 71 per cent of cases.

In most of the patients the sores appeared twenty-four to thirty-six hours after the beginning of treatment. The average time of healing was seven to ten days.

Cold sores may appear on the lips, cheeks, eyelids or inside the mouth. I think canker sores in the mouth are the same as cold sores. It is believed that cold sores are due to a virus or form of infection which invades the nerve ganglia of the nerve going to the lips and tongue. It is because the nerve itself is affected that they hurt so much.

Use of Small-Pox Vaccine
It has been suggested on the basis of experimental work that small-pox vaccine will prevent cold sores. People who are susceptible to them will probably find it worth a trial to take small-pox vaccine several times as a matter of prevention of cold sores.

It is obvious from the fact that fever therapy will produce cold sores that they are in some way related to an increase in bodily temperature. So there is some justification for calling them fever blisters. The reason they are called cold sores is that they so often accompany a common cold. Pneumonia is another fever in which they almost invariably make their appearance.

In the observation recorded above, 80 per cent of patients developed them after the first treatment, 13 per cent after the second, and 3 per cent after the third, and after a third attack the recurrence was negligible. So a certain amount of immunity develops.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet deshed, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp to Dr. Logan Clendening, 235 E. 45th st., New York. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene," and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

"The Japanese are continuing to advance. It is reported the commentator said that the British artillery divisions and transport on the island and silenced two sections of artillery."
The island's defenders of Hongkong stood on their decision to surrender today after their governor and commander-in-chief had turned down a second Japanese demand to yield and had received orders from London to hold on.

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
The Japanese continue to trail in their race to beat time before Allied reinforcements can arrive to take a hand in the battle of the Pacific. However, a little item from the distant Russian front today reminds us forcibly that Hitler undoubtedly is preparing to strike again in some other direction, and that his fresh blow will be calculated to divert as many Allied resources from the Far East as possible. An Associated Press correspondent after a three-day tour of the Moscow front reports that there have been no signs of the Nazi air force. That is ominous.

SOUNDS WARNING ON UNEMPLOYMENT

Keep Small Business Alive, Appeal Of Security Administrator

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Federal Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt asserted today the nation could not afford "busy assembly lines in some places and hungry bread lines in others," and predicted "appalling unemployment" next year if the government failed to keep small business alive.

Small and medium-sized businesses are a basic part of this country's economic foundation, McNutt told a senate committee which is studying small business problems. Since such enterprises "have their ups and downs together," they could not be considered separately, he added.

Cites Varied Angles

"When the workers in small industrial plants are unemployed," he declared, "small stores and service establishments lost customers and lay off help, and this in turn limits the consumption of the products of larger businesses."

"Layoffs due to material shortages are likely to be severe in the near future," McNutt continued.

"Recent reports to the public employment offices from selected plants indicate they have already laid off 45,000 workers and anticipate laying off 124,000 or about one-fourth of the total force."

"Nearly one-half of the firms curtailing employment formerly employed fewer than 250 workers. The peak of labor displacement is likely to be felt during the first half of 1942."

Sees Shifts in Jobs

McNutt estimated that millions of workers would be shifting jobs, meanwhile experiencing some period of unemployment and "the chill of insecurity." Areas hardest hit by material shortages at the present time appear to be the Great Lakes section and the Ohio valley, he said, although layoffs in a wide variety of New England industries have been reported.

The federal security program can cushion the effects of labor displacement and unemployment of

Cleveland Ex-Navy Man Returns Medals To Japan And Italy

(By Associated Press)

CLEVELAND, Dec. 18.—What Glenn Skogman told honorable Japanese about honorable decorations had a certain finesse about it which comes only with practice.

Two years ago the 37-year-old East Cleveland, a former Navy man, fired a decoration back to the Italian government.

Yesterday he wrapped up a couple of decorations and "with resentment" addressed them to Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, erstwhile Japanese ambassador to the United States.

Skogman reminded the admiral that in 1923, when he "happened to be visiting Tokyo" while in the merchant marine, he found himself "in a position to render aid and assistance to your country and its people" during an earthquake, for which he received the Japanese order of the Red Cross.

And in 1927 he was given the Japanese order of the Rising Sun, second class, as a token of "hands across the sea to endure to the end of the world."

Skogman said "I am not alone returning these decorations with resentment, but I am determined to spend as much time as possible in an effort to avenge the barbarous treatment accorded us as a peace-loving nation."

Now a chemist with an electric company, Skogman served in the Navy during the first World War after his size fooled a recruiting officer into thinking he was much older than 14. The Italian decoration was given him for rescuing six Italians in the Chinese rebellion of 1927.

Follow War News in Orient on These Maps

These excellent maps will help you follow the war news from the Far East. The map at lower left is the Pacific area around the South China sea, where much of the action is taking place. The close-up maps are of Hong Kong, British fortifications southeast of Canton; the Philippines, U. S. possessions under attack by the Japanese from air and sea, and Singapore, Britain's "Gibraltar" of the Orient. The Japanese flags indicate location of attacks.

Japanese Trailing In Race Against Time

TOKYO, Dec. 18.—(Official Radio Received By AP)—Three "enemy submarines have been sunk in the Pacific while one Japanese destroyer is reported missing, the navy section of imperial headquarters reported today.

It did not give the nationality of the submarines or where in the Pacific they were claimed sunk.

Revised Claims
The navy section in a revision of claims of damage done in Hawaii asserted that aerial observation showed that five U. S. battleships were sunk and that the U. S. air force there had been destroyed.

The announcement asserted the photographs showed these battleships were sunk.

One of the California class, one of the Maryland class, one of the Arizona class, one of the Utah class, and another of an unidentified class.

Two heavy cruisers and one oil tanker also were listed as sunk.

(U. S. Navy Secretary Frank Knox in his report Monday said only one battleship, the 32,690-ton Arizona, was sunk in the Japanese raid upon Hawaii Dec. 7. The 19,000-ton training ship Utah, three destroyers and the nine-layer Ogala were officially listed as the other vessels sunk. The old battleship Oklahoma and an unspecified number of other craft were damaged, some so lightly that they were returned to service immediately. Knox said army aircraft losses were severe, but that replacements already had arrived or were on the way.)

The Japanese high command declared that seven United States vessels had been damaged beyond repair, listing them as three battleships—of California, Maryland and Nevada classes—and two light cruisers and two destroyers.

Claim Plane Damage
A total of 450 American planes were machine-gunned and set afire on the ground and 14 planes were shot down and many others were damaged in the Hawaiian attack, the high command said.

The army section of imperial headquarters said Japanese forces which landed at Aparri, on the northern tip of Luzon, had occupied a United States air base there and were driving southward while another invasion spearhead was smashing resistance in the Vigan area along the west coast.

It declared also that Japanese units which disembarked near Legaspi, in the southeastern reaches on the island, were driving northward, implying that a Pincer action, which Japanese forecast last week, was under way.

The high command asserted only a small air force now offered resistance in the Philippines as a result of Japanese assaults upon the islands' air bases.

Washington ranks first, and New York second, among the states in apple production.

Food Production
At Record Levels
As U. S. Enters War

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—America enters its war against the Axis powers with production of nearly all kinds of food at or near record levels. A survey of grain, dairy products and livestock showed today. In many cases, output next year is expected to be substantially higher than in 1941.

America's great central plains,
most productive area in the world, have presented the country with bountiful grain harvests in years—more, in fact, than any country could export or consume, and there is a large surplus of wheat, corn, oats and other grains.

Dairy states are shattering all previous production records with intensive feeding and care, stepping up output of milk per cow 40 to 50 percent per year.

Large numbers of hogs, cattle and sheep—the meat in America's diet—being fattened on farms and ranches.

According to statistics, America's wealth shapes up in this fashion:
Wheat production this year is estimated by the government at 1,094,000 bushels against last year's 816,698,000. Corn output is estimated to total 2,675,373,000 bushels against 2,490,200,000 and oats
2,843,000 against 1,235,628,000.

When these figures, however, do not represent America's grain production accurately because of a 20-per cent over of unused grain from previous years. On July 1 the country had 387,000,000 bushels of wheat and 219,000,000 bushels of corn and on Oct. 1 there were 632-000 bushels of corn in this country.

Output in the first 10 months of 1941 was 4 per cent over 1940 and at the end of the year. Production next year is estimated at a 10 per cent above 1941. Milk production this year is expected to beat the previous record by about 100,000 pounds. Next year's goal is even higher.

AIR FORCE LEADER

IN MISSING PLANE
Five Other Officers, Two
Enlisted Men, Also
Aboard Ship

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The war department announced today
an army plane carrying Major General Herbert A. Dargue, commander of the First Air Force, had been missing since Dec. 12 on a transcontinental flight.

There were seven other passengers in the plane, five of them officers and two enlisted men.
Secretary of War Stimson said
the ship was last reported near Palmdale, Calif., and it was believed that it had crashed or been forced down in that vicinity.

General Dargue is a veteran flying officer, and usually pilots his own plane.

Those listed as missing with him
were:

Col. Charles W. Bundy, war department general staff, home
Washington.

Lieut. Col. George W. Ricker, war department general staff, home,
Washington.

Major Hugh F. McCaffery, Mitchell field, New York.

Captain J. G. Leavitt, March field, Calif., home address (102 North Laurel Avenue) Los Angeles.

First Lieutenant Homer C. Burns,
March field, Calif., home, Spokane,
Wash.

Staff Sergeant Stephen Hoffman,
March field, Calif., native of Sun-
W. Va.; last home address, 100
North Lucia Street, Charleston, Pa.

Private Samuel J. Van Hamm Jr.,
March field, Calif., native of Port
Collins, Colo., last home address
(346 Sixth Avenue, North) Twin Falls, Idaho.

Auto Strikes Horse

A horse owned by Ruth Baisley of 362 N. Roosevelt ave. was shot and killed after it wandered onto Route 14, a mile east of Salem at 2:10 a. m. today and was struck by an automobile driven by Glen Swaney, 21, of East Palestine.
State highway patrolmen shot the horse after it was found to have been severely injured.

snow-packed battlefields, sacrificing infantry and mortar detachments in delaying actions, and that there was no sign yet of any attempt to make a stand on a new line.

In the north, around long-besieged Leningrad, the Finns reported that the Red army had shifted the weight of its offensive against them, with Soviet troops attacking along the whole eastern sector north of Lake Onega.

Advices reaching London said that the Russians had smashed the Finnish line between Lake Ladoga and Lake Onega and that the million defenders of Leningrad were joining in the assault on the Finns.

This clearly indicated that the Leningrad defense armies had been freed from German pressure on the south and west, and possibly meant that the Nazis were giving up the siege of the old Czarist capital.

A bulletin from Hitler's field
headquarters, silent on land operations, said merely that Nazi aerial assaults had inflicted heavy losses
on Russian troops and tanks.

Meanwhile, armies of revolt were on the march against the German conquerors.
A British broadcast said messages from southeast Europe reported that Yugoslav and Greek "freedom armies" had linked up across the mountains of southern Yugoslavia and northern Greece, and were fighting the Germans in a unified campaign.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The new big two in the army's Hawaiian command, following yesterday's shake-up, are Lieutenant General Deke C. Emmons, commander of the Hawaiian department, and Brigadier General C. L. Tinker, named chief of the Hawaiian air forces.

General Emmons, who has been training for winged warfare since 1917, is a West Point graduate of veteran appearance, who looks young for his 53 years. Rated an excellent pilot, he has commanded the fighting branch of the air forces since 1939. His experience includes service in Hawaii. He is a native of West Virginia.

General Tinker, born in Elgin, Kas., once served as a lieutenant in the Philippine constabulary. At 54, he is rated a command pilot and combat observer, and until yesterday was chief of the third inter-ceptor command at Tampa, Fla. He transferred from the infantry to the air service in 1920, and learned to fly at March field, Calif.

ROBBERY QUINTET

NABBED BY POLICE
Cleveland Hotel Clerk Gets
Credit For Spotting
Suspects

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Dec. 18.—Alertness
of a hotel employee was credited by Cleveland detectives today for the arrest of five men and two women,
believed to be members of a ring
responsible for robberies which netted more than $150,000.

One of the men held was identified as one of three men and two women, who last week robbed the C.
H. Yeager & Co., department store in Akron, of $23,000. Detective Sergeant Joseph H. Munley reported.
The group is suspected also of the $21,000 robbery of a brewery in Toledo yesterday, the $76,000 robbery of a bank messenger in Stroudsburg, Pa., last summer and several other holdups in Detroit, Toledo and Youngstown.

Victims of robberies in these cities were being brought to Cleveland today to view the suspects in police lineups.

One of the men has a prominent scar on his chin. The scar, noticed by robbery victims was the only clue to operations of the gang.

Police believe the group made Cleveland its headquarters since the man with the scar (since purchased old automobiles here.

About three weeks ago, after preliminary investigation, Cleveland hotels were asked to watch for a group including the scarred man.
Last night a Hollenden hotel employee called police and said such a group had been registered since Monday and was preparing to leave.

Sergeant Munley and four detectives responded and nabbed the band as they were about to drive away. Three automatic pistols and $2,800 in cash were found.

Body Is Recovered
EAST LIVERPOOL, Dec. 18.—
Relatives today identified the body of Leo J. Kelly, 37, Smiths Ferry, (Pa.) steel worker, which was recovered from the Ohio river at nearby Georgetown, Pa. He had been missing since Nov. 11.

Wright Sees Airplane As Instrument of Peace

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. — Orville Wright, co-inventor of the airplane, believes that despite its conversion into a weapon of war it yet may be "instrumental in establishing for the entire world a guarantee of human liberty and of lasting peace." His views were expressed last night in a telegram from his Dayton, O. home to the Institute of Aeronautical Sciences at Columbia university. The institute was host to Prof. Richard V. Southwell, professor of engineering sciences at Oxford university, England, who delivered the annual Wright brothers lecture to commemorate the 38th anniversary of their first flight at Kitty Hawk N. C. Wright said that the plane in the hands of "barbarous men has been doing England and the world inestimable harm" but that it eventually would be an instrument of peace.

As a young man, Mr. Jackson obtained a job as an engineer on the Chicago to Alton railroad. When the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western railroad was constructed in this vicinity, he assisted and had the honor of driving the first engine over the line and across the high Elkton bridge.

In 1889 President McKinley appointed him as a railway mail clerk, a job he held for 33 years before retiring.

command of the Hawaiian military department, and Major General Frederick L. Martin of command of the air forces in Hawaii.

Lieutenant General Delos C. Emmons of the air combat force already has reached Honolulu and replaced Short. General C. L. Tinker, of the air corps, is enroute to take over the air command.

Secretary of War Stimson said the task of the new Hawaiian commanders was "to expedite the reorganization of the air defenses in the islands" and he concurred in the preliminary report of Navy Secretary Knox that "the United States services were not on the alert" when Japan struck at Pearl harbor.

Neither the war nor the navy department undertook to pass judgment on the superseded officers. Stimson explained that the army's action was taken to avoid "a situation where the officials charged with responsibility for the future security of this vital naval base would otherwise at this critical hour also be involved in the searching investigation" ordered Tuesday by President Roosevelt.

ON STATE STREET

Emerald Embassy by FRANCIS GERARD

SYNOPSIS

While strolling along the countryside, Ambrose Pennyfeather, a respected citizen of Weyland, England, is shot to death by a man who spoke with a French accent. In the nearby residence of Lord George Lancaster, he and his brother, Yves Blaydes-Steele, discuss the murder of their friend, who "never had an enemy in the world." Then talk turns to the mission Yves is to perform for his brother the next day. In the year 1895, the then Earl of Lancaster deposed the tyrannical Dwan of the Island of Sulungu, and seated the latter's cousin, Prince Thalan, on the throne. For this, Queen Victoria honored Lancaster with the mission of presenting a precious emerald to the new sultan each year. The Dwan conferred upon Lord Lancaster the "Honour of the Emerald," and from that time on the Blaydes-Steele family became a link between the Imperial House of England and the ruling monarch of Sulungu. There were now 101 jewels in the necklace. In recent years, the Dwan had come to England to take the new emerald to the next day. There was a prophecy that "he who wore the necklace were also the diadem." The priceless string now assumed international importance since Sulungu loomed as a strategically located submarine base and Japan was nearby. Besides, oil had been discovered there. The little island, therefore, was of incalculable value to Great Britain. The Weyland police are unable to solve the Pennyfeather murder, so Yves enlists the aid of John Meredith, former Superintendent of Scotland Yard, when the latter accompanies him to Paddock Wood where the Dwan of Sulungu resides.

CHAPTER FIVE

"Tell me a little bit about Pennyfeather."

For the remainder of the drive, Yves talked and John listened. At the conclusion of the long resume of Pennyfeather's life, Meredith shook his head and said, "You tell me that Pennyfeather had no enemies. I have to accept that until I can prove otherwise. In the method of killing, my opinion is that a homicidal lunatic does not, as a rule, use a gun. What have we left? Practically nothing. Murder for profit is out, unless we suspect his man, the parson, or somebody associated with the cottage hospital. You tell me that that's impossible. Murder for revenge won't do if you're right about his having had no enemies. Murder for freedom doesn't enter into it, either, since the only person that would be free is his man servant and he wouldn't be as well off as in his present employment. Mind you, I'm talking theoretically at the moment. I may find, when I get down to it, that Hogbin is desperately in love with some woman—to wit, the old gentleman's object—and—"

"He would have left Pennyfeather's employment," interrupted Yves. "That's true, but would he have returned his legacy?"

"It's a point," conceded Blaydes-Steele. "But if you knew Hogbin, you'd know that you could rule that motive out too."

There was no welcome in the Dwan's eyes.

"Then, what the devil's left?" asked Meredith.

"Six, old man! That's why we hoped you'd take hand."

The first lovely sweep of the Downs loomed as the big car was moving along at a smooth sixty.

Soon thereafter they were motoring between lofty stone gateposts—one of which bore the legend "Paddock" and the other "Wood."

The house which annually sheltered the hereditary ruler of Sulungu and his suite proved to be a large, modern house in what is described as "Queen Anne style."

That they were expected was evident for the big front door was open and outside it stood no less than six little men dressed in spotless white, their flatfish faces coffee-colored.

"Committee of welcome all ready," said Yves out of the corner of his mouth as he drew up before the door. "Now don't forget we have to be gravity itself."

The six little men saluted with their finger tips to their pug noses as Meredith and his companion approached the door. The entrance hall was dark and cool; the two men waited for a moment until they were aware of somebody to their left who was regarding them curiously.

This was a little man who was so fat as to be almost spherical. He was dressed in a brilliant, green, embroidered coat reaching to well below the knee and had on black elastic-sided house shoes.

"Ye gentlemen," said the little man, bowing, "how do ye do?"

"We do all right," replied Yves. "I mean," he corrected himself hastily, "how d'you do."

"You are well?" went on the other, his voice dropping on the last word instead of rising.

"Thank you," said Yves, "very well."

"That relieves me," said the little Sulunguese with a serene smile. "Ye gentlemen are permitting me to present myself to ye," went on this astonishing little man. "I am being honoured by being able to introduce humble self as Wazir to honourable Highness Buna Thalan, Dwan min Sulungu."

"The Prime Minister, I take it, Wazir sahib?" said Meredith.

Once more the round, little man bowed and said, "First minister of all Very prime."

After the customary introductions, the Wazir bowed low again and said, "Now please, ye gentlemen, I will be escorting you forwards to His Highness."

Carrying their silk hats in their hands, Meredith and Blaydes-Steele followed their guide up a vast staircase, along a seemingly endless passage to a room on the first floor at the rear of the house. Outside the door two more white-clad servants waited and they saluted when they had thrown open the double doors leading into the room. In the doorway the Wazir halted and bowed, the two Englishmen waiting at his back. Then he turned to them with his enigmatic smile and said, "Please to walk forwards, ye gentlemen."

They went into the room, and found themselves regarding a young man who stood in the embrasure of one of the windows. He was small and slight, but his figure suggested the potential strength of a steel spring. He was dressed very simply in a severe black, full-skirted coat which reached to the knee, his legs appearing in perfectly cut white jodhpurs. He wore his hair in the European fashion smoothed down upon his neat, round head. His coloring might have been that of a southern Italian. His nose was straight, the nostrils delicately arched like those of a thoroughbred horse. His face was oval inclined to length, and the brilliant dark eyes beneath well-marked brows, together with the mobile mouth and delicately strong chin, showed him to be an individual of considerable character and intelligence. He was clean shaven. Altogether a singularly attractive young man, this Dwan of Sulungu. He wore no jewelry save a single square-cut emerald which blazed upon the little finger of his right hand.

The two men bowed to him and he inclined his small head slightly in reply. For a moment or two, he made no offer to break the silence, regarding them from beneath long, black lashes, his dark eyes blank of expression. There was no welcome in his appearance. "Which of you two gentlemen?" he asked suddenly in perfect English, "is Lord Lancaster's brother?"

"I am," said Yves quietly, adding, "And this is my friend, Sir John Meredith, who has been kind enough to come down with me to—"

—he smiled slightly—"to help me take care of your property. Your Highness. Sir John was for many years at Scotland Yard."

A flicker of expression appeared in the young sultan's dark eyes and their brilliant scrutiny was turned to Meredith's face.

"Scotland Yard, Sir John?" he asked softly.

"I was with the C. I. D. for a long time, Dwan sahib," nodded Meredith. "And my father knows your—"

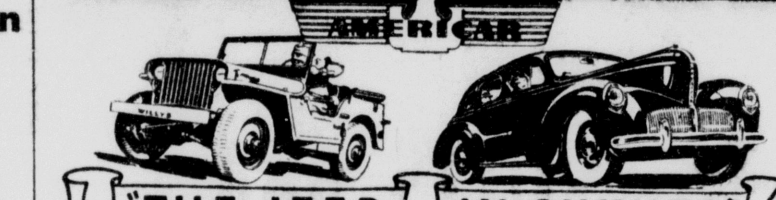

"Good!" said Buna Thalan cutting him short. "Then I may have complete confidence in handing the necklace to you, gentlemen?"

"Oh, absolutely," declared Yves. "Tell me, Mr. Blaydes-Steele," said the Dwan, "how is your brother? Delighted as I am to make the acquaintance of another member of his family, I am so sorry not to see him today. I hope he will not long be confined to his bed."

Mrs. Roosevelt Asks Tolerance

Mrs. Roosevelt, right, with Japanese youths

Before returning to the east, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the U. S. president, met and talked with four youthful Japanese, leaders in the Japanese-American Citizens Defense Committee of Tacoma, Wash. At the meeting, in that city, Mrs. Roosevelt strongly urged everyone to maintain the same attitude toward the Japanese who have lived in the U. S. for years as was shown before the war.

Member of Daughters of America Lodge Walked On Crutches Before Taking Ton Jon

Had So Much Rheumatism and Pain That She Suffered Intensely. Stomach Was In An Upset Condition But TONJON Has Restored Her To Normal Health.

MRS. T. F. DILL

"It was a lucky day for me when the mill workers with whom my husband works told him of the benefits they had derived from TONJON," declares Mrs. T. F. Dill, 607 North St., NW., Warren, Ohio. Mrs. Dill is a member of the Lutheran Church and of the D. of A. Lodge.

"My kidneys were in a terribly weakened condition and I ordinarily had to get up about five times a night to relieve my kidneys. Passages were always very miserable because they were accompanied by a burning and smarting sensation. There was so much rheumatism in my legs that I had to walk on crutches at times.

"My stomach was always upset because my food soured and I very often was forced to vomit so as to be relieved temporarily. I was short of breath and I was menaced with heartburn. There was a bad taste in my mouth and my breath was offensive.

"My husband's advice was responsible for my taking TONJON and since I began using this medicine I have noticed a wonderful improvement. I have gained some weight now that my food digests properly and I haven't had any disagreeable results from eating. TONJON is the best medicine for me."

If you suffer, try TONJON 1-2-3. Talk to the TONJON Health Representative at the Broadway Lease Drug Store, Salem, Ohio.

Broken Heart In Alaska Blamed On U. S. Defense

EUGENE Ore. — The furious storm in Alaskan defense activities, which has interrupted the delivery of mail there this winter, has presented the Eugene Chamber of Commerce with a case of a broken heart.

A Eugene girl, whose boy friend resides in Kodiak, Alaska, has asked the chamber why she has been receiving such angry letters when she has been writing such nice ones.

The chamber got busy on the matter with the postal authorities and found the boy friend's "slight-of-feeling" was due to not receiving his loved one's correspondence.

Small quantities of tin are now being produced in Canada. Prior to the war there was no production of this metal in the Dominion.

A new singing team is introduced in "The Chocolate Soldier," musical romance showing at the State Friday and Saturday, with Nelson Edgely and Rise Stevens, young Metropolitan Opera star.

The new Eddy singing partner has a flair for light comedy which shows to advantage in the story of a jealous husband who poses as a Russian to test his wife's love. A song Oscar Strauss musical score, and a supporting cast which includes Nigel Bruce, Florence Bates brighten the romantic story.

Born in New York city, Miss Stevens studied here and in Europe and made her opera debut in 1938 with the Metropolitan. In her third season with the company, singing the role of Delilah in "Sampson and Delilah," she was the first American in 22 years to sing the role with the Metropolitan. Some of the most delightful music yet brought to the films is heard, including "To an Evening Star," the amusing "Song of the Flea," "My Hero," "Sympathy" and many other numbers. The story of a wise wife who lets her husband think he is fooling her laughs up her sleeve as he makes ardent love to her as another man is based on the original stage success.

Concluding tonight at the State is "Swamp Water" with Walter Brennan, Walter Huston, Dana Andrews and Anne Baxter.

At the Grand tonight through Saturday are: A musical comedy, "Sing, Dance, Plenty Hot," with Johnny Downs and Ruth Terry; and "Riders of the Badlands" with Charles Starrett and Russell Hayden.

Reading Inability Cause Of First Grade Failures

ATLANTA, Ga.—Lack of ability to read comprehendingly is known to be present in 99.5 per cent of the first grade failures in American schools, according to Dr. Ullin W. Leavell, of the department of education at Peabody college, Nashville, Tenn.

All too often, parents and teachers, realizing the fact that a child reads poorly, simply prescribe "more reading," he said in an interview. Usually this wholesale

"dose method" produces exactly the opposite effect desired, he said.

In 1940 railroads had 72,000 trucks in operation, more than the total number of locomotives in use.

"Remember Cozad" Is Slogan As Quakers Prepare For Niles

COACH WORKS TEAM HARD IN PRACTICE; LINEUP IS DOUBTFUL

Matuszewski, Gentile Are Backbone Of Niles Court Squad

Salem High's cagers take a jaunt to Niles tomorrow night to meet the feared Red Dragons at the Niles gym. The Dragons were hit hard by graduation last year but have come up with a good squad built around two lettermen, Art Gentile and Mike Matuszewski, both of whom played against the Quakers last season. The Niles quintet downed the Salemites in that game, 36-25, with Matuszewski scoring 22 points.

To support these veterans, Coach Jimmy Wiant has developed some promising material recruited from last year's reserve outfit. Among them are Devarich, Zorn, Holloway, Kaszanyi, McElroy, and DeMont. The first two named are both boys and both met the Quakers on the gridiron this year.

Wiant indicated early in the year that his varsity would travel light, having only 10 men. Nine took part in the Red Dragons' first game against Youngstown South. Bob Holloway and Mike Matuszewski paced the Red and Blue to their first victory of the season with 13 and 8 points, respectively. The South reserves had enough to defeat the Niles reserves, 24-19.

In one respect the Quakers will have an edge on the home team and that is that the locals have already played four games and are starting to shape up nicely while the Niles quintet played only South, winning 29-28.

The Quakers, who have been getting stiff workouts in preparation for the contest, will be after their fourth consecutive win of the season and the reserves will attempt to remain undefeated as they oppose the Niles second stringers in the preliminary game.

SPORT CHATTER

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.

NEW YORK, Dec. 18—No matter how serious the situation looks, you can always count on sports to provide a laugh or two. For instance: With nothing going on hereabouts except bowl game preparations, the football season still is alive at Kodiak, Alaska, and in Newfoundland—where Minnesota's grid pictures have been sent.

Today's Guest Star

Lynn C. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin: "Connie Mack has racked up 41 spring exhibition games for his A's, starting in Anaheim, Calif. They can't scare that man away from the west coast—in fact, if there was any scare in him, the Yanks would have shooed him out of the American league long ago."

Service Dept.

Current issue of the "Amateur Athlete," AAU publication, adds these names to the list of AAU and intercollegiate champions in service: Privates Frank Darrah, Dick Ganslen, Jim Kehoe, Otto Kotrbach, Andy Neidig, and Johnny Quikley, Corporal Chuck Fenske, Lieutenants John Lyman, George Varoff and John Woodruff, Flying Cadets Harry March and Frank Slater and boatswain's mate, Don Vosberg of the track and field forces and Chief Boatswain's Mate Tom McDermott and Flying Cadet Jim Reilly, swimmers.

Pop Pops Off

"Now that the football season is over and the coaches have really begun scouting, the circus folks have put a 24-hour guard on Garpan's cage. They don't think he could pass the entrance exams but there's no use in taking chances."

Sportspourri

New York's public schools athletic league has formulated air raid rules for the basketball season. If a warning sounds in the first half it's "no contest"; in the second half it's a legal game. What, no siren checks? The McGuffey High school football team of Oxford, O., gave Coach W. C. "Weeb" Ewbank a $25 defense bond at the recent annual banquet. The boys thought up the idea and bought it with their own money. Pitcher Jimmy Thompson of the Cincy Reds still is trying to find the cure for his sore arm, on which doctors have been working for two months.

Roberts, Demings, Trojans Triumph

In last night's lone Class A battle at the Memorial building, Roberts, Mens Shop topped the Saxons in a thrilling game, 30-29. F. Sweitzer featured for the winners as he flipped in three field goals and a quartet of free shots for a total of 10 points. Saxons scored the same number.

In Class B, the Trojans scored a 20-23 win over the Cavaliers in another close game. The Cavaliers led throughout the first three quarters but lost their spark as the Trojans put on a last period spurt to come from behind and take the ball game. It was the second win for the Trojans and the second loss for the Cavaliers. "Wink" Miller paced the winners, scoring eight points on four buckets while Don Freed scored for the losers, tossing in 10 threes.

Demings scored their third win of the season, taking the verdict from the Salem China five, 31-17. The Readshaw brothers shared scoring honors for Demings as they scored eight points apiece. Tony Julian led the Chinas with seven markers.

Kelley has announced that he will try to run off the Trades Class YPC game which was postponed earlier in the week.

BOWLING RESULTS

Jacksons fell from the top rung of the Pastime league last night as they suffered a three-game setback at the hands of the Salem Label five on the Grate alleys.

Citizens Ice, taking three from Sponsellers and Albright's, claiming three on a forfeit by the Elks, are tied for first place. The Gold Bar dropped one to Hunts and came up with a tie with Jacksons, three games below the two leaders.

Loudons won two from the Strop Club and Bloombergs forfeited three to the Eagles.

The Ice men had three games well over the 900 mark for a total of 2808. Hiltbrand had one game of 228. Huffer of Albright's posted a 224.

The Ohio Edison five in the Ladies Masonic League kept up their terrific pace as they battered Warks into a three game setback. The Salem News kept right behind the Edison's by copping three from the Mullins kiegler.

In other matches of the evening Kresge's shutout the cellar-dwelling Bankerettes and Starks took a pair from Brownies.

Magic Is Used To Aid Insane

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—Primitive witch doctors probably used rabbits as an ingredient in their healing broths for the "bewitched," but the modern psychiatrist teaches the insane to pull rabbits out of a hat.

Dr. Douglas M. Kelly, instructor in psychiatry at the University of California medical school, said modern magic, legerdemain and "he hand is quicker than the eye" feats have become one of the most important curative agents in the hands of the professional psychiatrist. While magic is classed under the general heading of "occupational therapy," it has possibilities far beyond that of most of the occupations usually taught, in that it rehabilitates entirely many a mental case.

Dr. Kelly pointed out that the ability to perform these parlor tricks immediately gives to the person the impression that he is a "success," that he is clever and that he can fool the people about him. He can do something that they cannot.

This ability attracts attention to a mental patient and distinguishes him in a social group and gives him a feeling of superiority of confidence in himself and enables him to pull out of his inferiority complex, Dr. Kelly explained.

He has found the system extremely efficacious in patients of the depressed type, split personality, and neurotics generally.

It should not be used, however, he has found, on persons of the "extroverted" type. These latter, he said, already have an obnoxious sense of their own importance and the added ability to perform tricks of magic only makes them all the more obnoxious.

"Simple conjuring," he said, "can be taught to any patient of average intelligence who can use his hands. After a single lesson one can deftly perform easy of mechanical effects. Magic is very adaptable and can be used by almost every type of patient in every space at any hour.

"Paper magic tricks and tricks with playing cards are safe enough to be used by these having suicidal tendencies. It is also a very economical treatment.

It is just the same as learning to play the saxophone at home and becoming the life of the party, with the advantage that the magic is easier to learn and does not irritate neighbors."
